Matthieu Evrard has been appointed Deputy CEO of Affine

Matthieu Evrard will be joining Affine as Deputy Chief Executive Officer with effect from 29 March 2016.

Mr. Evrard holds a degree from Ecole Centrale Paris, a top French engineering university, and is currently a member of the Executive Committee of the Louvre Hotels Group, where he is in charge of development, acquisitions, asset management, the technical department and international operations.

Matthieu Evrard has over 10 years of experience in business development and real estate, as he began his career in M&A at PricewaterhouseCoopers, then joined IPD France before accepting growth-centric real estate operational responsibilities in the B&B Hotels Group in 2004 and later with Louvre Hotels Group in 2007.

These years of experience have given Mr. Evrard expertise in all facets of real estate, from user expectations, development, acquisitions, repositioning, disposals, financing, through to fundraising and investor relations, aimed at creating medium and long-term value.

Executive Management considers that “this appointment is in line with our strategy and gives us a competitive advantage for the successful implementation of Affine's transformation and development. Services will increasingly play a key role in real estate, and Matthieu Evrard brings experience that will help the Group to successfully incorporate this dimension into our portfolio management.”
